

MaineHealth

Learning Community

Diabetes Podcasts for patients and providers available on-line

With ever-increasing attention being given to diabetes management, the Center for Disease Control has assembled a variety of diabetes podcasts designed for professional and patient audiences.

Topics include: prevention, eye care, foot care, exercise, periodontal disease, and nutrition. These informative podcasts are a great resource in diabetes care.

- Follow this link: <http://www2a.cdc.gov/podcasts/browse.asp> - Once there, select either Clinical Diabetes Management in the "Series" browse, or Diabetes in the "Topic" browse